DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to application filed on November 17, 2003. Original application contained Claims 1-60. Therefore, Claims 1-60 are pending for further consideration.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-60 of instant application 10/715,551 (hereafter '551) are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-84 of U. S. Patent No. 7,269,778 (hereafter '778) since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

Claims 1-60 of instant application '551 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-84 of '778. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because in view of the obviousness type double patenting rationale enunciated in Georgia-Pacific Corp. v.

Art Unit: 2131

United States Gypsum Co., 195 F.3d 1322, 1326, 52 USPQ2d 1590, 1593 (Fed. Cir. 1999), both application claim subject matter that relates to o data coding in a communications channel by reducing unwanted bit patterns from user data in the communications channel, and the instant application's ('551) above mentioned claims merely claims a data dependent scrambler for a communications channel that receives a user data sequence including X bits that are organized as N M-bit symbols includes a seed finder that generates a scrambling seed that is dependent upon the symbols in the user data sequence, and an H-code finder generates at least one of an H-code token that is dependent upon the symbols in the user data sequence and an offset of the H-code token from the scrambling seed, and also increases a Hamming weight of the scrambled user data sequence using the at least one of the H-code token and the offset, which is obvious variation of a scrambling device that communicates with the data dependent scrambler and scrambles the user data stored in the buffer with the selected scrambling sequence from the data dependent scrambler, and a communications channel such as a data storage system removes unwanted bit patterns from user data without using run length limited coding on the user data, as claimed in patent '778.
